

April Newsletters 2025

Hello! It is time for a new Newsletter. This is because It is coming to the end of another month. The clocks have gone forward and it is nice to have more light. We did a Easter Egg hunt, we went to see Minecraft, did many bus rides and train rides and now the kids are back to school.

In April I created some new training, Change Your Life and wrote some blogs on my site and create videos for it too, check out my Educational Youtube channel:

I have created a Worksheet for it which is completely free to download and so check out my blog:

I have begun to film them this week and will be organising my Pinterest and getting some overdue tasks done, like transferring some notes written in my notes APP on to my notion along with Organizing my Notion.

It is good to be organized, it sets me up for the next month and having a bit of reset and going to go through the food we got for meals, what needs tidying and finish tasks that I have been working on, to then move onto the next set of tasks to do.

Cheat Sheets

If you didn't know I do a weekly cheat sheet every week on Monday and are free to download and print.

Check out my Pinterest to read them and on my Twitter and Facebook:

May 2025

It is time to get ready for the summer and got some excited things coming up . Summer Vlogs, will be working on my programme from June to August my Summer Project 2025.

There will be blogs, worksheets and videos. So if you subscribe then you'll be the first to find out. It will begin from June the 1st to August 31st.

I hope to have one of books ready to publish. It is going to be a series and is book 1. I publish but want ed to change it and plan to got film coffees for my TikTok: <https://www.tiktok.com/@typicallondongal>

I will be writing more on my blogsite Versatile Fashion. I have been checking out H&M and get some bits for summer but can worn for all the seasons and I have been giving my bedroom in Epsom a makeover and made some progress and would love to do some filing outdoors. Please let me know of what you'd like me to film for my vlogs, if recipes, cleaning and working on content and been creating resource library for my site Everyone can build a castle.

Have a wonderful May and so see you there.
