

June Newsletter

2025

At the beginning of July my mum and I are going to see the Rocky Horror show, starring Jason Donovan and check out Love Theatre as they are great way book to see shows (not sponsored) Just been so good to see shows as I love the Theatre:
<https://www.lovetheatre.com/>

June 2025
Vlog

Hello how is it June honestly. I always say to myself that I will pre plan to find out when the boat race is on, The Derby, the London Marathon, but as always I didn't.

So determined to make sure I pay more attention as I would really like to take my son to see the Boat Race being not far away and such a historic event, along with the The Derby, Grand National, the London Marathon, even if never get my dream to take part. Been apply but never been successful.

This month I am off to see Billy Idol at Wembley Arena, I am not doing the Race For Race got a lot on, also I want to focus on doing my Radio Show, which is on Epsom Hospital Radio Sunday's 4pm to 6pm. but I will get myself together and get back into to doing Race For Life and other fundraisers. My son has not got a Secondary school place yet and has taken a lot of sorting out and pray that he gets a place.

I am doing my Life Coaching programme Summer Project 2025 and have filmed and written blogs. Check out my Pinterest to see all the resources, blogs and videos added already for it:

<https://uk.pinterest.com/thetypicalLondongal/summer-project-2025/>

I took my son to go and see How to Train a Dragon. It was good but went on a bit, sorry if you loved, I found it was a bit too long, but glad I went to see it and will be going again. There is a new Superman Film coming out. As a kid I loved the Superman films, along with Jurassic Park Reborn and the Fantastic Four, First steps. I like getting the all in one adult and child ticket and something I loved doing with my son.

I am no longer doing Parkrun as my son has begun to do Football Training which is around the same time and love seeing him play and want to experience these moments as you never going to get them back. Yet I may go back doing Parkrun, just not for now.

I took a break from vlogging last week, because I just wanted to have a bit of space but now back and will be showing bits of my makeover of my so and my bedroom in Epsom. I live in Wimbledon and Epsom to look after my son and see him off to school and back. I bought my son a new desk, got to get a chair for it and sort out a place for his books and I want to get some shelves and prints for mine.

I want to do my cleaning and organising in the kitchen that I regularly do, not all the time, but three to four times a year with a declutter and taking him on some trips and walking as I love to walk, please check out my Instagram: <https://www.instagram.com/typicallondongal/>

So enjoy if you can in June and I will see you with another Newsletter in July but check out my Vlog channel, my Financial Living and Carries Educational Youtube channel:

<https://www.youtube.com/@typicallondongal>

<https://www.youtube.com/@financialliving>

<https://www.youtube.com/@CarrieEducationalYoutube-ws4xp>