

Things To Do At The Weekend

If you work in the week then I am sure you can't wait until the weekend to do go out, sort your home out and see friends and family.

It can be a good time to,

- Have a nice pub lunch no matter the weather and great way to catch up with friends and family.
- Visit a Garden Centre. They will have events coming up for Halloween and firework nights so good place to go to find about other things going on and events in your area.
- I like to watch a concert or a documentary.
- Go for a walk through the parks. They often have other things going on.
- The theatre or Cinema.
- Go for a coffee and a bit of retail therapy.
- Have a breakfast in a café. Something we often do, myself and family.
- A Pamper session. I love to have soak in the tub with some lovely bath salts whilst listening to music.
- Do some Gardening and we do our weekly shop.
- Visit a Car Boot Sale or a Market.
- Create a weekend playlist of things to watch or listen to.
- Catch up on some TV and have a family film day or evening.
- Do some ironing and laundry. Whilst that is going on catch up with some reading.
