

How To Save For Christmas

As inflation grows so does saving for Christmas but there is a way.

- Change counts: We always save our change and one year we used to spend money on holiday if your going away for Christmas.
- Save points: I love a points card and have often used my Nectar points to pay for Christmas food.
- Buy food that can be used as left overs. I love left overs and remember you can buy and freeze meats and vegetables for future meals.
- Go secondhand. If I have any items not used but be good for someone else then will use it as a gift.
- Book trips. Booked Transport Museum and if your on Universal Credit or Pension Credit you can get an annual pass for £5.
- Have people help contribute with food. When we have a family party my step dad will make Brownies and cheesecake.
- Give food parcels as gifts and if your good at Baking why not make cupcakes rather than a whole cake.
- Give gift to the whole family not to individually. You can make a hamper or book an experience or currency if they plan to go away for the family if they plan to go away.
